| Ethics Bowl                             | Ostapowicz    | P1          | Ethics Bowl is a space where discussion is used to untangle nuanced topics. At an Ethics Bowl event, the goal is to share ideas, collaborate, and learn from disagreement. Teams provide arguments in favour of their positions and receive input from other teams and a panel of judges. The judges score teams on clarity of argumentation, critical and constructive engagement, and their ability to appreciate views that differ from their own.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
