Overview The outcomes in Film & Media Art are structured to respond to the call of living a creative life and the development of technical competency as well as creative capacity through engagement in the authentic creative practice of filmmakers and media artists. The essence of creative practice is active, open, process-based learning. The Film & Media Art course requires students to be more than passive viewers or consumers of film and media arts. Students must actively engage in design practice with film and media arts. This can be accomplished through a wide variety of roles required to create a film: director, writer, concept artist, editor, director of photography, designer, and critic, just to list a few. The intent of this class is to teach the student to appreciate the artistic and narrative quality of film and how media establishes perspective as one of our most endearing art forms. The primary focus will be on film criticism and analysis. Numerous genres of film will be studied. Films studied will be different from previous year as the course is split. Film chosen will focus on both curricula.

Assessment The assessment plan for the course will be a balance of assessment for learning, assessment as learning, and assessment of learning. Your summative grade will be calculated cumulatively throughout the quarter under Classwork.

The code NHI may be used to represent coursework that has not been handed in. It is representative of a zero. In addition, the following may appear for a student in PowerSchool instead of, or in addition to, a numeric grade:
